

Visa Pricing Table

1 September 2013

How to use the Visa Pricing Table

The Visa Pricing Table enables you to determine the amount of the first instalment of the Visa Application Charge payable when making your visa application.

Some visas also include a second instalment of the Visa Application Charge which is due before the visa grant. Please refer to relevant notes under each visa pricing table.

For applicants whose visa requires them to be sponsored or nominated, their sponsor or nominator may also be required to pay certain fees.

The Visa Pricing Table is divided into categories that correspond to what you plan to do in Australia. For example, if you want to visit Australia, you will find the fees and charges for those visas listed under the 'Visit' category. If you want to study, then the fees and charges for those visas will be listed under the 'Study' category.

The categories defined in the Visa Pricing Table are Visit, Study, Work, Live and Other. If you cannot locate your visa in the above categories, you may wish to check additional information contained in the Repealed or Closed Visas section.

To determine the amount of the first instalment of the Visa Application Charge payable you will need to know the following information:

- the subclass of the visa you are applying for
- the visa stream you are applying for (if that visa has streams)
- if you currently hold, or have previously held, a visa, the visa subclass
- the number of additional applicants applying with you in a combined visa application, who will be 18 years or over at the time of lodgement of your application
- the number of additional applicants applying with you in a combined visa application, who will be under 18 years at the time of lodgement of your application
- whether you intend to lodge an Internet application (if available for your visa) and whether the non-Internet application charge applies to your visa
- where you will be at the time of making your application; in Australia or outside Australia
- whether the subsequent temporary application charge applies to your visa application and how many applicants applying at the same time are liable for this charge.

You also will need to check if any Visa Application Charge exemptions apply in your circumstances.

Once you have collected the above information you will be able to calculate fees and charges you are required to pay in order to lodge your visa application.

Calculating the Visa Application Charge

The Visa Application Charge - Calculation Worksheet, can help you work out the fees and charges you need to pay when making your visa application.

The Form 1025i - Making and processing visa applications can help you understand the process of making a valid visa application.

Determining the fees payable

The Visa Pricing Table contains rows and columns of information for a particular category of visa. It shows separate charges for applications lodged when the applicant is:

- outside Australia
- in Australia

As an example, if we look at the Fees and Charges for Temporary Work visas, these will be shown as follows:

Applicant outside Australia

	See Note	Base Application Charge	Non- Internet Application Charge	Additional Applicant Charge 18 and over	Additional Applicant Charge under 18
Temporary Work (Short Stay Activity) (Subclass 400) - all streams	9a	$165	N/A	$85	$40
Temporary Work (Long Stay Activity) (Subclass 401) - All streams	-	$360	N/A	$360	$90
9a Your visa application charge for this visa might be nil if you are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • an amateur participant in a sporting event; or • a person appointed or employed to assist an amateur participant; or

9f The subsequent temporary application charge may be payable if you are in Australia when making the visa application. See: Subsequent Temporary Application Charge

In the above examples, the left most columns shows the visa name and subclass.

Next is the reference to any explanatory notes that may be applicable to that visa. The notes are located at the end of each table. If there are no notes for a visa a dash '-' appears in the 'See Note' column.

The remaining columns show the applicable fees and charges for that visa:

- the base application charge
- the non-Internet application charge
- the additional applicant charge for applicants 18 years and over
- the additional applicant charge for applicants under 18 years
- the subsequent temporary application charge for visas that are applied for while the applicant is in Australia.

Each of the above fee columns shows the applicable charge.

- Nil - indicates that the charge is nil
- N/A - indicates that the charge is not applicable or not available
- N/A* - indicates that additional applicants are not permitted for that particular visa
- If an amount appears that is the applicable charge.

Please note: Your personal circumstances may be such that a particular charge does not apply in your situation. It is therefore very important to check the 'See Note' column for any explanatory notes applicable to your visa, and also check the:

Visa Application Charge - Exemptions section to see if a particular exemption may apply in your circumstances.

For more examples of calculations see How to use the Visa Pricing Table

Subsequent Temporary Application Charge

Where the subsequent temporary application charge applies, it is paid by each person in an application. The applicability of the charge depends on each person's individual visa history.

This charge is not paid by:

- bridging visa, criminal justice visa or enforcement visa applicants; or
- permanent visa applicants.

Subsequent Temporary Application Charge Formula

The subsequent temporary application charge is calculated for each applicant.

The questions asked of each applicant are as follows:

Assurance of Support

An Assurance of Support (AoS) covers the principal applicant and other family members included in the application. In certain migrant visa subclasses an AoS is a mandatory requirement which must be met prior to visa grant. If you applied for one of these visas, your assurer must also lodge a refundable bond with the Commonwealth Bank of Australia.

Other visa subclasses may have an AoS as a discretionary requirement only.

For these visa subclasses, a bond will not be required unless it is provided by an organisation other than a stage agency.

See: Fact sheet 34 Assurance of Support. www.immi.gov.au/media/fact-sheets/

AoS assessments and AoS period

On 1 July 2004, Centrelink assumed responsibility for the assessment of AoS applications, including bond lodgement.

See: www.centrelink.gov.au

An AoS bond is held for the duration of the AoS period regardless of whether or not the migrant has obtained a different visa (except where that visa is a Humanitarian visa) or has subsequently become an Australian citizen.

For applicants applying for a permanent Contributory Parent visa, the AoS period runs for 10 years from:

- the date you arrived in Australia (if you applied from outside Australia); or
- the date you were granted a permanent visa (if you applied from within Australia).

For applicants of all other visas, the AoS period is 2 years from:

- the date you arrived in Australia (if you applied from outside of Australia); or
- the date you were granted a visa (if you applied from within Australia).

Release of bond

After 1 July 2004 - AoS cases accepted by Centrelink

For all AoS cases accepted by Centrelink, only Centrelink can authorise release of the bond. Release of the bond will depend upon whether the visa holder (the assuree) has claimed any recoverable Centrelink payments during the life of the AoS.

After the AoS period has expired, the assurer should ask the nearest Centrelink office to release the bond money (less any claims by Centrelink).

Before 1 July 2004 - AoS cases accepted by the department

For all AoS cases accepted by the department, a bond may be released by the department before the AoS period begins. This only applies if the person for whom the bond was paid:

- does not travel to Australia before cancellation or expiry of the visa;
- withdraws their visa application;
- is not accepted for permanent entry to, or stay in, Australia; or
- dies before the AoS comes into effect.

Important: In all other circumstances, if the AoS period has already begun, only Centrelink can authorise the bond release.

Further information

Please contact Centrelink for more information about the AoS scheme, including up-to-date bond amounts. Centrelink will advise when to lodge the bond(s) and how much must be deposited.

Migrant Health Services Charge

The Migrant Health Services Charge (MHSC) is governed by the Migration (Health Services) Charges Act 1991 and applies to any unfinalised visa application lodged prior to 1 May 1997.

Applications lodged on or after 1 May 1997 are subject to a Visa Application Charge.

The MHSC is charged for each applicant (including children) included in the visa application and is indexed on 21 August each year.

Indexation is based on the Consumer Price Index (CPI) index numbers published by the Australian Bureau of Statistics.

According to the Act, the MHSC index is calculated by dividing the CPI index number for the March quarter of the relevant year by the CPI index number for the corresponding period in the previous year. The visa applicant is required to pay the MHSC amount as at the date of the MHSC liability notification letter.
